

SkillCheck Version 5

INTRODUCING SKILLCHECK VERSION 5 WITH INTEGRITY SCORESYNCH

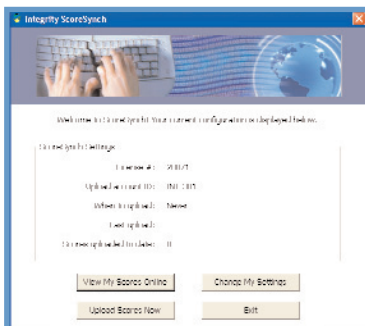

First Advantage's SkillCheck Assessments have long provided powerful, customizable software-based skills testing for networks and standalone PCs. SkillCheck tests can also be accessed from any computer with an Internet connection, permitting testing in the office, at home, or from remote locations such as job fairs.

Now, with the advent of SkillCheck Version 5, organizations that still want or need to have software-based testing solutions can continue desktop testing from behind their firewall while taking advantage of some of the biggest benefits of online testing, including the ability to centralize test scores in an online database and access the same lookup and reporting features from any Internet browser.

Ideal for organizations with multiple locations using a combination of PC, network and online implementations, SkillCheck's new Integrity ScoreSynch feature lets you standardize skills testing and centralize scores administration across your organization and protect yourself against data loss caused by hard disk crashes or database corruption.

■ INTEGRITY SCORESYNCH

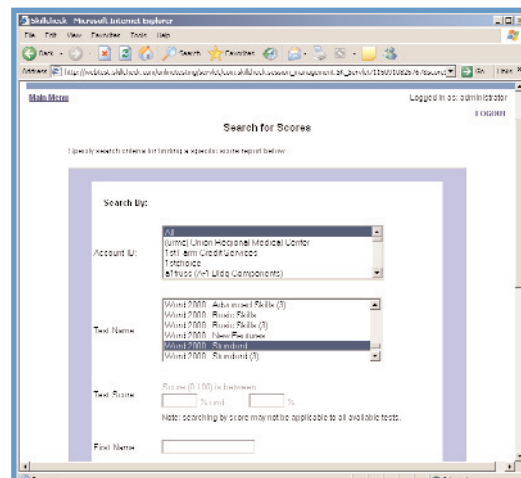

ScoreSynch is part of First Advantage Assessment Solutions' Integrity line of integration products and services. Users of SkillCheck Version 5 software running on PCs and networks will have access to the same easy-to-use test administration features that have been the hallmark of SkillCheck assessment solutions. In addition, ScoreSynch automatically takes score data from PCs and networks running SkillCheck and uploads them to the same secure Internet database used to store scores for First Advantage's Internet testing customers.

■ INTEGRITY SCORESYNCH

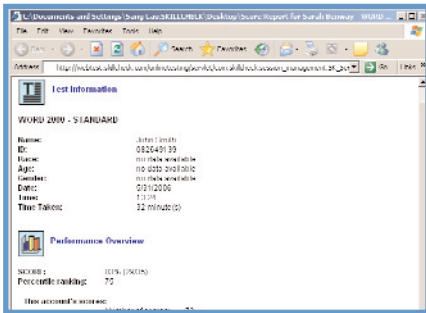

With Integrity ScoreSynch, your testing PCs are no longer "islands" of data. Once testing is completed, Integrity ScoreSynch uploads score data to an online testing account created automatically for each customer, allowing organizations to find scores for any candidate taking any test from any location by searching a single, online database.

■ STAYING ON THE DESKTOP/
MOVING ONLINE

Whether you plan to continue giving testing from local workstations, or move your testing completely online, SkillCheck Version 5 enables you to bridge the gap between software and Internet testing. For example, customers who wish to continue to perform in-office testing on the desktop while leveraging Internet testing to send e-Tickets will have access to all test scores from the same online database. And if you plan to move completely online you will continue to have access to test scores generated on Version 5 software, even after you transition to online.

With advanced online reporting you can review candidate performance and print out attractive reports for sales and marketing purposes.

■ THE BEST JUST GOT BETTER
